DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of applicants' amendments and remarks submitted August 26, 2003 is acknowledged. Any previously stated rejections that are not restated below are hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 45 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 45 is rejected for reasons set forth in paper No. 4. Note "bicarbonate" was re-inserted in claim 45.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. §102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 38-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pecht et al. (US 4,996,296) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Art Unit: 1617

5. Claims 38-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Speck et al. (US 4,870,061) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Claim Rejections 35 U.S.C. §103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 44-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Speck et al. (US 4,870,061) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.
8. Claim 48 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kubo et al. (JP 11-71273A, of record) for reasons set forth in the prior office action.

Response to the Arguments

9. Applicants amendments and remarks submitted August 26, 2003 have been fully considered, but are not persuasive for reasons discussed below.

Applicants allege the preamble "peritoneal dialysis" herein should have patentable weight, but fails to establish any material difference between the claimed solution and those disclosed by Speck et al. and Pecht et al. The claimed invention is directed to a solution comprising 0.5 to 5% (w/v) (an effective amount sufficient to create an osmotic pressure to effect the removal of water by diffusion from a patient's blood across the peritoneal membrane) of amino sugar. Both Speck et al. and Pecht et al. disclose such solution. There are no factual bases for supporting the allegation that such solution would be any different from the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 1617

The deletion of “bicarbonate” from claim 48 does not make the rejection over Kubo moot because the claim uses transitional phrase “comprising” which does not exclude the presence of bicarbonate in the composition.

Applicants assert the osmolarity of the solution disclosed by Speck is different from a peritoneal dialysis solution because the peritoneal dialysis solution requires greater osmolarity pressure. The assertion contradicts to the osmolarity defined by the claims. Claims define that 0.5 to 5.0% (w/v) would provide sufficient osmotic pressure for peritoneal dialysis purpose. See, claims 38 and 39.

Nothing unobvious is seen in the claimed invention.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
